Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Three Robins in the yard early Monday, the first we have seen. They seem to be common down town however.

Have a sister living in Chicago and she reports all in order there. That was before this last extra heavy snow however. That puts close to 40 inches of snow on the ground, more snow than they usually get all winter long. Her daughter takes a twenty minute trip home from work each day and last weekend it took her six and one-half hours to make the same trip.

A whole flock of State Colored Juncos sitting down from the trees to feast giving the appearance of leaves being swept from a tree by a sudden gust of wind. Then just as suddenly they slip back into the trees as if pulled back by a rubber band.

Saw a Moccasin Sunday. A hardy soul no doubt.

There seems to be more misquoting in the world today than at any time in history. The fact that they are sincere makes it even worse.

One ton of newspaper contains about 1-1 cords of unpeeled wood. In case you don't know what a cord of wood is, it is a stack of wood 4 feet x 4 feet x 8 feet.

Accident Is Reported Here

A two car accident occurred Monday at 12:30 p.m. at the intersection of South 3rd and Poplar streets, but no injuries were reported on the police report filed by Patrolmen H. E. Wilson and Bill McDougal.

The McColl car was struck in the left side by the 1967 Ford four door sedan owned by Chrisman and Company, 101 East Poplar Street, and driven by Jerry W. Paradise Friendly Home "Written Up" In State Publication

A story concerning the Paradise Friendly Home at Bell City appeared in the February issue of Our Heritage, published by the Department of Natural Resources, Frankfort, Kentucky.

The story was accompanied by pictures of the home and of Mr. Murdock and some of the children who live at the home. The story is being reprinted here for the interest of Ledger and Times readers.

Conservation is a way of life for a group of young "outsiders" near Mayfield in Graves County. They plant trees and till the soil as part of their routine while about 50 children ranging from three to 17 years of age.

The home, sponsored by the Churches of Christ, consists of two buildings for living quarters and a new recreation hall. Since the home was established in 1965, it has offered refuge for as many as 72 homeless children at one time. They come from all over, from as far away as Texas.

The 58-year-old Murdock, a native of Graves County, teaches the youngsters the value of conservation by having them practice it. As a result, the boys plant pine seedlings along roadside too steep to mow. Both boys and girls work in the garden and, Murdock said, this helps "keep the fresher full from growing season to season."

He also grows beef on the 70-acre farm.

Besides the roadside projects, Murdock encourages farmers to plant pine on their idle lands and the children do the work with the landowner's permission. They also clear off cemeteries in need of beautifying.

Murdock has some definite ideas about the need for caring for homeless children. "If you leave 'em in the slums," he said, "they turn to crime — and we'll be paying for them in penal institutions. If we can teach a child to be a good, respectable citizen, we're a lot wiser."

Murdock mimes no words about the problems of dealing with children.

Eight Million Is Received By Growers In Purchase District

Tobacco production in the Purchase region returned growers almost eight million dollars, according to 1966 records. The crop is grown in all counties, although the principal tobacco growing counties are:

Ballard grows half of the burley in the area producing two and one-third million pounds. Graves County ranks first in dark type of tobacco, producing five million pounds followed by Calloway County producing four million pounds. The other Purchase counties produced one and one-third million pounds of dark tobacco.

Tobacco was grown on 13,539 acres. Burley was grown on 2,762 acres and dark types on 10,776 for a total of 13,464 acres. Hence the average farm acreage of tobacco was about one acre per farm with an average yield of 1,404 pounds. This average yield is too low. Many burley growers are obtaining 2,500 pounds per acre and many dark growers are obtaining 1,800 pounds per acre of good quality tobacco. Proper land selection, soil testing and proper fertilization is needed on many farms to raise average yields.

A series of tobacco production meetings are scheduled in February in the Purchase area including Calloway County High School February 13 at 7:00 p.m. All tobacco growers of the Purchase area are invited.

The meetings will be under the direction of W. R. Hoover, area extension agent in tobacco, with the cooperation of Hampton Brooks, vocational agricultural instructor, for the Calloway meeting.

George Everett, UK tobacco specialist, will help in some of the meetings. Also Emerson Jones, area extension agent in chemical weed control, will be on the program at all meetings.

The topics to be discussed are recommended varieties, plant bed management, disease and insect control, fertilization and chemical weed control.

1966 Tiger Year Book Wins Rating

A First Class honor rating was awarded the 1966 Tiger, Murray High School yearbook in the 46th All American Yearbook Contest. Service of the National Scholastic Press Association, according to an announcement made to Prin. Eli Alexander and to Mrs. George Hart, adviser.

More than 1,000 student yearbooks from high schools all over the nation are judged by NSPSA in groups divided by enrollment.

The top honor rating, All American, represents superior accomplishment. A First Class honor rating means the yearbook is good but lacks the outstanding qualities needed for All American. Entries are judged in all areas of production from content through photography, writing and layout.

The MHS Tiger of '66 was late in being judged because the book was a fall delivery.

Mr. Alexander and Mrs. Hart expressed their delight in the high rating. The yearbook is a reflection of the 700 points for All American. This is the highest rating the school has received for yearbooks and represents work done on the part of the senior staff and adviser in other than school time, there being no journalism classes scheduled in the school.

Mrs. Lucille G. Kidlow of the NSPSA included in her 47 page review of the Tiger the following comments: "The '66 Tiger is a bright and lively book, obviously the effort of a staff that tried to produce an excellent book. They succeeded in many respects but there is room for improvement, there always will be."

"Writing is well done as was copy heading and captions.... This '66 Tiger is a satisfactory book with a better than its predecessors and a fitting valedictory for its retiring adviser. Congratulations to you, Mrs. Hart and the staff and best wishes, too, to the '67 staff and the new adviser."

The '66 yearbook is the work of 30 seniors with Steve Douglas as editor. It contains 192 pages including the six-page index. It was paid for by sale of the annual and advertising. The staff was happy that there was a "little nest egg" left after all expenses were paid.

Hazel Honor Roll Is Named

The honor roll for the third six weeks for Hazel Elementary School was released today by Jim Feltner, principal. Following are those making the honor roll and their grades:

He will leave for Marine recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, South Carolina on March 7.

Young Williams qualified for Marine aviation schooling by scoring high on pre-enlistment examinations. He scored 45 out of 48 possible points at Paducah on one test and 85 out of a possible 100 points at the Marine Corps Recruiting Station at Louisville.

Williams was in the 1966 graduating class at Murray High School and has been employed at the Ledger and Times since that time.

Clarification On Hospital Wages Made

A news story published in the Ledger & Times on Friday, January 27 contained an incorrect statement concerning the wage increases at Murray Hospital. The story indicated that the minimum wage at the hospital was to be $1.40 per hour under the new minimum wage law. This was the understanding of the Ledger and Times according to information released from hospital officials.

Robert Wilson, Administrator of the hospital said today that the hospital will come under that part of the minimum wage law which covers employees NOT PREVIOUSLY COVERED. Those employees in business and industry previously covered will come under the minimum wage law of $1.40 per hour which became effective February 1, 1967. Those employees already covered will go to a new minimum of $1.60 per hour on February 1, 1968, and will continue to go on the 40 hour week with time and one-half over 40 hours.

The hospital was not previously covered therefore they will be under the new section of the wage and hour law which places the minimum wage at $1.00 per hour.

The hospital employees will receive a minimum of $1.15 per hour effective February 1, 1968. The scale rises as follows: $1.20 per hour effective February 1, 1969; $1.45 an hour effective February 1, 1970; and $1.60 per hour effective February 1, 1971.

Hospital employees will work on a 44 hour week effective February 1, 1967. The maximum workweek will be 42 hours effective February 1, 1968 and will drop to 40 hours effective February 1, 1969. As indicated before, this situation covers hospital employees because they were not previously covered by the wage-hour law. As may be seen they will come under the full law over a period of four years. This is being done to prevent a sudden increase in salary which could well "break" nearly any firm or institution not previously covered.

What the new minimum wage means is that hospital employees not making $1.00 an hour will be raised to that point. Next year on February 1, 1968, they will be raised to $1.15 per hour and continue at 15c per hour each year until February 1, 1971 when they will receive $1.60 an hour minimum.

The Ledger and Times regrets this misstatement of fact in the January 27 issue. The entire question apparently hinges on whether an industry or business was already covered by the wage-hour law as of February 1, 1967 or whether it was brought under the law as of February 1, 1967.

Average Of $39.60 Here

An average of $39.60 was reported for the sales of dark fired tobacco on Monday, according to Ollie Barnett, reporter for the local market.

Barnett said 366,496 pounds of dark fired tobacco were sold for a total volume of $153,063.60. The Monday average was slightly lower than the average for the season through last Friday, $41.24.

Sales are being held on the four Murray growers leaf floors, Doran's, Farris, Growers, and Planters, but sales will be held on Wednesday and Thursday. The next sale after today will be on Friday, February 10, Barnett said.

Q — I understand Congress passed a law allowing veterans to apply for a special insurance known as "J" insurance. Is this true?

A — Yes, but the date for application of this type insurance expired May 2, 1966.

Q — Do I add the 6 percent tax surcharge mentioned by the President in his State of the Union address to what I owe on this year's return?

A — No, the surcharge must be approved by Congress before it becomes law.

Q — I started work on my '66 tax return and find the new withholding rates have left greatly overpaid. Is there anything I can do to reduce my withholding?

A — Yes. When the graduated withholding rates were adopted by Congress last year, provision was made to allow additional withholding allowances to taxpayers with large itemized deductions. These allowances take into account the size of the taxpayer's income deduction, as reported on 1966 tax returns as well as income and deductions expected for 1967.

Procedures for claiming these allowances are outlined on Schedule A (Form 1040) available at local IRS offices. This schedule and a corrected W-4 must be filed with the taxpayer's employer who will make necessary withholding adjustments. These allowances cannot be claimed until you file your 1966 return.

Q — I just turned 65. Will my boss stop withholding Social Security taxes from my pay if I go on working?

A — The law requires the employer to withhold Social Security taxes on the first $6,500 in wages paid each employee during the year. The age of the employee does not change this requirement.

Q — I support my daughter who was recently divorced. Can I claim her baby as a dependent?

A — You probably can if you provide more than half the baby's support. Check the dependency requirements listed on page 4 of the 1966 instruction booklet.

Q — There is one deduction I forgot to claim when I filed my 1965 return. Can I include it when I file this year?

A — No, you cannot. An amended return or claim Form 943 must be filed for 1965 to claim the deduction.

Q — Too much was withheld for Social Security tax as I held several jobs last year. Can I get this refunded or credited to any income tax I might owe?

A — Yes, you can. A special line has been added to Form 1040 where you can list excess Social Security tax withheld.

This is Line 19 on Page 1 of the 1966. If you had two or more employers, use it to list amounts in excess of $377.20 withheld for Social Security taxes.

Q — I understand that the first $100 in dividends is not taxable. Does that mean I don't have to list that on my return?

A — All dividends received should be reported on your return. Page 2 of Form 1040 has a line where you may make the exclusion you refer to. On joint returns where both husband and wife receive dividends, each may exclude up to $100 of such dividends.

Q — I moved and didn't get my 1966 tax package. What should I do?

A — Copies of forms and instructions are available at any local IRS office as well as at many banks and post offices.

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE

by Donald F. Smith
By Staff of Agriculture

A program of rural development can help America's cities, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman stated in a speech before the recent Governor's Conference on Agriculture meeting in Louisville. He said without rural development, many problems now plaguing cities will grow much worse.

"No problems as severe, nor threatens the future of this country more, than the two-headed dilemma of too little opportunity in the country and too little space in the city," Freeman said. He told the group that until rural conditions are improved, migration to the cities will continue adding to the poverty-stricken slums already in existence in many cities.

The Secretary said only a small percentage of the low income families in rural areas are farmers. In fact, he said, "Ten million of the sixteen million rural poor are not farmers."

Freeman said a National Advisory Commission on Rural Poverty has been named to take a serious look at problems faced in rural America. Kentucky Governor Edward T. Breathitt has been named chairman of the Commission.

Freeman would like a development program that would allow rural residents to remain in the rural areas. This would end the heavy migration of rural people to the over-crowded cities. Moreover, if a program of rural development is put into action, the present trend can be reversed whereby people can be brought from the cities to live in rural communities.

In his remarks before the Conference, Freeman said, "The lack of job opportunities in the rural communities is only one of the problems. Rural communities are also short on doctors, dentists, clinics, hospitals, golf courses, and many other things that make a place better to work in, play in and live in. Rural communities also lack proper housing and educational systems."

All of these things drive the residents to the cities, where all too often, they must take up a living no better, and in some cases worse than the one from which they migrated. Slums of today's cities are heavily populated by rural immigrants or descendants of rural immigrants.

"Happily," Freeman said, "this Nation is coming to realize that one of our greatest assets in this crowded world is space... the one commodity in great abundance in Countrywide U. S. A. More than that, we are coming to believe we can help relieve the strain on our crowded troubled cities by building new opportunity into the countryside for those city dwellers who want to live and work in rural America."

"Study and planning are the keys to success in the massive effort now getting under way to bring parity of opportunity to rural America and breathing room to our cities. I am confident that Governor Breathitt's Commission will achieve the big breakthrough we need in this effort," Freeman said.

NEW HOUSE
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. and Mrs. Ronald Reagan announced Thursday they plan to move out of California's 80-year-old executive mansion because it is a fire trap.

Reagan told a news conference a group of private individuals, whom he would not identify, plan to finance a new governor's mansion to replace the Victorian house located in what is now a busy commercial neighborhood.

When asked if the state should accept buildings from private groups, Reagan replied: "If there are some civic citizens who want to give the state of California a mansion... I am not one to look a gift horse in the mouth."

Harold Allison and his hounds. The two Blueticks are "Blue" and "Gaylon". The Walker beauty is "Queen". These are four fine looking "Cooners" which we heartily welcome to our family.

There are so many more hounds scattered over Kentucky, which we haven't seen as yet. Gentlemen, won't you please share a picture of your champions with the rest of the world? If you insist, we will ignore you, but please we want your hounds in our club. Please!

The photo above pictures only four of the many ladies present at the Twin Lakes Open House Jan. 21st. To the other ladies and children present, of whom we did not get a picture we say, this was a test shot during the "acting up" period the camera chose to conk out on us.

The above picture gives us an idea for the next opportunity we have to meet with this group. As we learn (if we do) from our mistakes and lost opportunities, we hope to plan the groups and pose our models, so as to get everyone. That's a tall order but we shall never quit trying to improve the pictures. One consoling thought, we can only proceed in one direction. If there is any change it will most certainly have to be for the better!

We aren't speaking to Ted Atkins! We have just been informed he has parted with our registered Black and Tan, "Black Jack" and the huge Bluetick "Sham", who is also one of our favorite hounds. Shame on you, sir.

We are eagerly awaiting that call from our fishing buddies, Vernon and Eva Moody!

Twin Lakes Coonhunters Club members: as of now we shall remove the films excuses some of you have been using to get by with not attending the meetings. The next business meeting will be held in the new club house on Monday night, February 13, 1967. Every member is urged to attend! The regular scheduled hunt will take place the following Saturday night, February 18th.

In case you fail to check your mail, or for any other reason, do not get the card announcing these dates, we are giving the information here. You now have ample time to make plans to attend these two events. Some of you have never attended one of the business meetings. You should!

There are still a few unpaid dues. If you don't have an opportunity to take care of this matter before the meeting, why not plan to pay your dues the night of the meeting of February 13th. It would be nice if the records could be completed, with all members paid up, at this meeting.

Donnie Kell, is diligently working to secure the names of some Hickman club members whose pictures we are anxious to run for you. We hope he will be in a position to gather many types of information for us at their next meeting. We aren't absolutely certain of the date, but Don tells us, he's fairly sure the next hunt at the Hickman club is scheduled for Saturday night, February 25th. If we are wrong about this perhaps we will hear from some more members of this club. We have exhausted every means to draw these hunters and hounds into our circle. Distance is our major obstacle. The people (from this club) we have met are very courteous and cooperative! We like them and their hounds. They brought a number of Redticks and a couple of Walkers to the Twin Lakes hunt. We understand almost all breeds are represented in their Hickman club and hunts. We have a very special interest in a Black and Tan lady named "Kate". We hope to have a picture and story on this "top hound and hunter" very soon. Again we are depending on Donnie Kell to supply the rest of the information we need on these two "champion cooners".

Gaseous Cassius Remains The Champion In 15 Round Brawl

By DARRELL MACK
UPI Sports Writer

HOUSTON 676 — Cassius Clay stole Ernie Terrell's wanted left jab and threw it back into his face unmercifully Monday night to win a unanimous 15-round decision over the bloody but courageous World Boxing Association titleholder. Clay, now the undisputed heavyweight champion, humiliated Terrell before a record indoor crowd of 37,821 in the Astrodome.

The fiery dancing Clay hurt Terrell for the first time in the third round with a series of lefts that sent Terrell reeling into the ropes in Clay's corner. The champion also drew the first blood in the third round, opening a cut inside Terrell's left eye.

At the end of the fight, the 6-foot, 6-inch Terrell was bleeding from his nose and both eyes, his left eye was swollen almost shut and the entire right side of his face, which bore the brunt of Clay's machine-gun-like left jab, was swollen.

Bloody Nose
Clay also suffered a bloody nose in the 11th round—but Terrell's highly-publicized left jabs were frequently short of their target—the chin of the mercurial champion. "There were no knockdowns," Terrell was staggered several times but still never has been knocked off his feet in 44 pro fights, 39 of them victories.

Clay's speed and flicking lefts kept him so much in command after the sixth round that he won every round on the cards of the referee and both judges from that point. Referee Harry Kessler scored it 148-132 under the 10-point must system. Judges Ernie Taylor and Jimmie Webb both scored it 148-137. Webb gave the first two rounds to Terrell. Kessler gave Terrell the second and fifth and Taylor gave him the fourth and fifth.

Clay, who promised Terrell "a Floyd Patterson annihilation," fulfilled the prophecy with his gloves and tried to add to the humiliation by shouting at the befuddled Terrell, "What's my name? What's my name? What is it, huh, what?"

Terrell never answered aloud or with his gloves. Clay's taunting reached a climax in the eighth round and he was still shouting the question at the bell. He repeated it twice more and Terrell started back for him, but Kessler grabbed Clay and sent him to his corner.

Clay prefers to be called by his Black Muslim name, Muhammad Ali, but Terrell won't use it. This angered the champion so much he promised the Patterson-type beating. He gave Patterson a savage beating.

Don Duncan Sends Racers Into Overtime; Toppers Win 88-79

Don Duncan converted a three-point trip with 13 seconds left in the game to tie the count at 73 all, and send the game into overtime, but Western defeated the Murray State Racers in the overtime 88 to 79. The two teams played on even terms for the first 12 minutes of the game when the lead changed hands 10 times and the score was tied five times.

Western went out in front 20-19 with 8:31 on the clock in the first half when Butch Kaufman hit a jumper. The Hilltoppers outscored Murray 14 to 2 in the next four minutes to take a 32 to 21 lead.

The Racers staged a come back led by Duncan, Herb McPherson and Jim Stocks to pull within one point, 37-36, at the intermission.

Western again pulled away from the Hilltoppers and led by nine with eleven minutes left in the game, but Murray again staged a comeback and tied the score to force it in overtime on Duncan's three-point trip with 13 seconds in the game.

Two quick jump shots from 10 and 15 feet by Clem "The Gem" Haskins opened the overtime and sent Western out to a four-point lead. A pair of free throws by Dwight Smith gave Western a 70-73 lead with 2:40 left in the overtime.

Billy Chumblers sank a field goal, and Rick Haverstock two free throws to pull within two points of Western but could get no closer.

Western is now 17 and one overall in the win and loss column, and seven and 0 in the OVC. They haven't lost a game since they dropped their opener to Vanderbilt 76-70. Murray now has an 11-7 overall record and 5-4 OVO record.

The Toppers had some trouble earlier in the season when they beat Tennessee Tech 91-80 and East Tennessee 63-61, but has been having an easy time the last few games. In the last three games before last night's contest, they had romped over Eastern 116-71, Morehead 100 to 69, and Austin Peay 101-59.

Haskins was the leading scorer of the night with 33 points, connecting on 12 of 32 attempts, and sinking nine free throws.

McPherson was high point man for Murray with 24 points, 11 of 25 from the field and two of two from the free throw line.

Cunningham tossed in 17 points and pulled in 22 rebounds to lead in that department. But, Western out-rebounded Murray 52 to 42.

Also in double figures for Murray were Duncan with 19 and Haverstock with 10. Other Toppers to score over nine were Kaufman with 18, Dwight Smith with 13, Chapman with 11 and Greg Smith with 10.

The Racers return home Saturday night to take on Eastern Kentucky, then Morehead Monday night, before taking to the road again.

Murray (79) — McPherson 24, Haverstock 10, Cunningham 17, Chumblers 6, Duncan 19, Stocks 3.

Western (88) — Haskins 33, Chapman 11, G. Smith 10, Kaufman 18, D. Smith 13, Weaver 3.

Short Hemlines Are Shown In Friday's Paris Fashion Show

PARIS (AP) — Modern jabs pulled down the cool white salon, the healthy freckled models, all along in their geometric-cut dresses and Andros Courages were back in Paris.

That was the scene that closed the spring-summer high fashion collections Friday.

Andre Courages, a taciturn, 44-year-old designer who gained an engineer, disclosed the fashion world by showing his first collection in two years.

The fashion designer who left women into wearing shorter skirts, pants and boots returned from self-imposed exile with a collection in which the skirts were few and far between.

First of all, Courages' hemlines four or five inches above the knee now no longer are as extremely short. And after plastic and leather mini-skirts, Courages' band-wild-seamed white flared dresses look like what they are — high fashion.

The Courages classics were still there, too, but with some subtle variations. The well-seamed, flat-iron shouldered coats had curving collars and seams.

Scalloped edges and needlework trim were other variations on Courages' banded edges.

Some of Courages' outfits took their inspiration from the nursery. The colors were baby blue and pink.

Courages pants, which appeared less dominant in this collection, were belted and pocketed, with the highest flare at shoe level. There were a lot of Bermuda shorts, usually in white.

What's New

New push-buttons are for locks. One firm is marketing a keyless, push button combination lock that it claims cannot be picked or jammed. The lock operates by pushing a key of 19 numbers on its facing, causing the deadbolt to spring back. The maker says the numbers offer 10,000 possible combinations for opening and that the combination can be changed without removing the lock. All that is required is to drop a new pair of slides in the back of the lock. A night latch makes the setting fixture inoperable from the outside.

A new, leakproof plastic bag has an 18-quart capacity and fits into most step-on garbage pails and waste baskets. The sanitary white polyethylene bags are suggested also for storage and for holding diapers.

The latest kitchen tool is the pickle picker, designed to go from bar to buffet to dining table. It can be used to spear pickles, cherries, olives, cocktail onions and lemons. Its lines are serrated for a firm hold on food.

When ironing embroidery work, lay it face down on a soft thick towel to make the embroidered pattern stand out.

Snooping Is Wrong — Even For Mom

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What should a 17-year-old girl do when she finds out her mother has been reading her diary? "Abby," I know she reads the letters I have received after I have put them away. I have lost all faith in her! She has no reason to doubt me. Why does she do this, Abby? How can I prevent her from snooping?

LOST FAITH: There is nothing you can do except to hide that which you wish to be kept private. A mother who snoops in this manner is in effect admitting that she is incapable of establishing a good mother-daughter relationship—one where there is mutual confidence and respect for privacy.

While I do not condone snooping, if your mother is typical of most snooping mothers, she is probably motivated more by good intentions than malice. But she is wrong, wrong, wrong.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is killing me, and I need someone to tell me what to do. The man I have been living with for nearly two years does not believe in marriage. He says the piece of paper saying you are married doesn't mean anything. We are very, very happy together until I bring up the subject of marriage.

This man had a very bad experience with his first wife. It's not just his word. Everyone who knows her says she was so bad she was unbelievable. But what have I to do with this lady? All women are not the same.

My man is very good to me in all ways, and we love each other very much, but I want to be a respectable married woman. When I mention this to him he walks out of the house and says he will not come back if I keep pushing him. I am thinking of leaving him. Please help me do the right thing.

DEAR BELIEVER: Tell him that either he marries you or you are finished with him. But unless you MEAN it and can stick with your word, don't say it. Let him walk out—and tell him not to come back without a wedding ring. If you love him—you love him. But I'd bet in favor of his marrying you.

DEAR ABBY: I read where a number of housewives boycotted the supermarkets to protest their high prices. What, they were REALLY protesting was their own laziness! Today, most women can't put a decent meal together without Duncan Hines, Betty Crocker, Birds Eye, and Mrs. Stauffer. Naturally if one is going to buy everything already prepared—requiring only thawing and heating, he should expect to pay for it.

I suggest that instead of complaining about the high cost of groceries, those housewives invest a few dollars in a good cookbook.

and learn how to transform raw material into delicious meals. I bake my own bread for less than "I can buy it at the supermarket," and I can put my own "delicious butter sauce" on TWO POUNDS of peas for less than I could buy twelve ounces of peas "frozen in butter sauce." Perhaps that is why I am—

STILL A BACHELOR: CONFIDENTIAL TO MARK: The most perfect man who ever lived, was the first husband of the widow who married again.

How has the world been treating you? Unkind, your problems on Dear Abby, Box 9700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90009. For a personal, unpublished reply, include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

NUCLEAR-FREE ZONE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States objects to the present form of a proposed treaty to make Latin America a nuclear-free zone on grounds it contains a loophole that could be used to develop nuclear weapons.

The proposed treaty, being drafted by Latin American diplomats at a Mexico City meeting, would not be "completely effective" in preventing the spread of nuclear weapons, State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said Monday.

The pending treaty would permit "development of nuclear explosive devices for peaceful uses." But McCloskey said "such devices are for all practical purposes—indistinguishable from weapons." He said the United States was bringing pressure on delegates to the Mexico City meeting to change the wording.

tion, representing dairy farmers serving the market.

The dairy farmers propose increasing the fluid milk (Class I) price 10 cents a hundredweight, by setting the price at 25 instead of 15 cents above the St. Louis Class I price.

The dairymen also propose amending the seasonal incentive payment plan to withhold 40 cents a hundredweight from returns to farmers for milk delivered in April through July. Presently, 20 cents a hundredweight is taken out of returns during these four flush milk months and paid back to producers in the fall, C&MS officials said.

After considering evidence presented at the hearing, USDA may recommend amending the order. Everyone interested would then be given opportunity to file exceptions or comments to the recommendations before a final decision is issued. The final decision would be subject to approval by at least two-thirds of the dairy farmers serving the area before the changes would be made effective.

dren whose parents have either died or abandoned them. They come on this ground bailing my guts — and I must start from there," he said. Many have been on relief rolls, he added.

The children appeared to be well disciplined during a visit to the home. Their quarters were orderly and tidy. And, in back of the house, several boys were digging a hole for a septic tank quite industriously — just as if they were being supervised — although Murdoch was running an errand in town.

Much like any father, Murdoch lifted a four-year-old girl into his arms and had a story about her. Playfully, he had told the little girl he would "chew your ears off," and she replied, "No, no, I couldn't hear the word of God."

MURRAY

Morton said he told the group, "There is no such thing as total victory and certainly no such thing as total withdrawal."

He told the group the bombing of North Vietnam could be stopped "if we interdict the supplies being sent to South Vietnam." But the group contended that such a move would touch off an atomic war, he said.

The nation-wide group calling itself Clergy and Laymen Concerned About Vietnam gathered at the White House, stood in silence for an hour, and marched to the Capitol to visit their congressmen.

A spokesman for the group said more than 2,000 took part in the vigil.

Others from Kentucky included the Rev. Billy N. Williams and the Rev. William M. Porter, both of Murray.

"Sen. Cooper is concerned that the United States should come to the negotiating table as soon as possible," Taylor said.

"The senator feels the single most productive step to accomplish this would be to stop the bombing of North Vietnam. He agreed with us that it's worth a try."

But Cooper told the group that the steps toward peace would have to be taken carefully, Taylor said.

"He told us that quiet diplomacy would be much more valuable in our search for peace than merely residing the well-known position on both sides."

The group told both Cooper and Morton in a prepared statement that the Vietnam war is immoral, that there is an "inconsistency between the U.S.'s stated aims and the consequences they produce," and that there is "discrepancy between what we are told by our government and what we discover is actually taking place."

The statement said the nation's policy is "leading our world toward disaster."

miles long. This is the stuff we print the paper on.

Making newspaper is big business. You can't make just a little newspaper. The investment required to create a daily ton of newspaper manufacturing capacity costs about $100,000, exclusive of wood supply and power.

Canada still makes the most newspaper out of spruce trees. Last year they made 43 per cent. The U.S., in spite of building several plants in recent years, only produces 12.3 per cent. The rest is spread over 8 other nations.

Although the US makes only 12.3 per cent it uses 47 per cent of the total made in the world.

Canada makes 43 per cent of the world's newspaper but uses only 3.3 per cent of the total.

All these figures exclude China. They use some paper of course and right now it is mostly in the form of posters which carry the news instead of the newspapers which are all closed down.

The New York News is the largest US daily with 2,122,982 circulation.

The price of newspaper in 1940 was $50.00 per ton. In 1950 it was $101.00 per ton. Today it is $136.92 per ton.

Newspapers in 1965 got the major part of the advertising dollar. Newspapers received about four and one-half billion dollars, magazines a little over one billion, radio got less than one billion and television got about two and one-half billion dollars.

tormented and abused a lot of Russians who were trying to reach their jet planes to fly back to Russia from China this week. Reports indicate that they broke bus doors, cursed the Russians, spat upon them and urinated on Soviet officials.

We don't believe that many westerners will get too indignant over this treatment. The picture of Khrushchev banging on the table at the UN with his shoe is still too vivid in their memories.

Off hand we would say that the Russians and the Chinese deserve each other.
